ANALYSIS OF PRIVATE SECURITY

FAKE CALLS

WHAT ARE THEY?

Telephone call with theft modality (money and/or valuable articles), through blackmail and deceit with private information, made to people in vulnerable conditions, such as: domestic employees, senior citizens and minors.

CONSIDERATIONS

The victims are mostly selected by the information available on social networks. Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, TikTok and others..

The facades of the scenarios are of difficult situations that present a relative of the victim, such as:

Permanent demand and intimidation not to inform anyone.

Detained by authorities.

Injured due to different circumstances.

An accident that has recently occurred

You have won a million-dollar prize draw.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- Maintain control of social networks, allowing access only to family and close friends.
- Avoid providing surveys on the street.
- Before hiring domestic service, carry out a personal safety study.
- Remain calm during the call and listen for detailed background noises.
- Generate an identification keyword with your family in special cases of emergency situations.
- Don't allow domestic helpers to know the location of your jewelry or cash.
- Inform and train your family members and domestic staff of the existence of these modalities, and prepare them for when they receive these types of calls.
- Don't authorize for any reason the removal of any item of value from your property.
- Inform the management and your security services at your place of residence that no one other than the owners of the property are authorized to remove packages, briefcases or any other items.
- Contact security or law enforcement to report the situation.
